MORE INTEREST IN CORNELL CREWS NOW

New Coaching System Increases the Interest.

The new crew coaching system at Cornell, which went into effect recently, is expected to materially increase the interest of the student body as a whole in rowing. Under the arrangement between the Athletic council and the Inter-College Athletic Roard rangement between the Athletic council and the Inter-College Athletic Board the college crews are to be coached by John Hoyle, under the direct supervision of Charles Courtney. The new system will give the college oarsmen a regular coach and will assure them the daily advice of Courtney. Rowing under Courtney's instruction is likely to stimulate interest in the college crews and form a better source of supply for the varsity boats than of supply for the varsity boats than heretofore. By the new arrangement the number of men will be largely increased. The equipment of the university and college navies will be practically merged.

in speaking of the new system Courtney said:
"All of the crews that row will not he under one head and if I should want to pick one of the college oarshien for a varsity boat in the middle of the season I will know that he has

MODEL LIFE HEREAFTER

FOR JIMMY CLABBY For Three Years or Go to Jail-On Probation Agreement.

Jimmy Clabby, the Hammond, Ind. fighter who claims the middleweight title, will live a model life for the next three years if he fulfills the terms of an agreement into which he has entered. If he falls to live an exemplary life, he will be sent to fall for three years and will be forced to pay a fine of $500.

Clabby and his trainer, Arthur McQueen, were sentenced to three years in jail and to pay fines of $500 each by Judge White for having beaten Charles Laurance, a policemanfi in a street fight on January 28. Sentence was suspended in consideration of the fact that Clabby agreed to pay Laurance $1,000 damages and live an exemplary life. According to the probation agreement outlined by Judge White, neither man shall drink, engage in controversy, or visit any place where he may be exposed to temptation for three years. It also is stipulated that they shall not stay out all night.

Captain Whitney of American Team Injured His Shoulder.

J. M. Waterbury, captain of the International polo cup this year, has returned to New York from England. He said that at present he had no idea of the makeup of the American team. Only practice, he said, would determine its composition. Mr. Waterbury thinks Louis E. Stoddard will not appear on the polo field this season, but that Malcolm Stevenson, Foxhall Keene and Rene Ls. Montague will probably be in the tentative lineup. Harry Payne Whitney, captain of the team which successfully defended the polo cup last year, came back with Mr. Waterbury, Mr. Whitney said that dislocation of his left shoulder from a hunting fail probably would keep him out of the game this year although he

DANNY MURPHY IN OLD TIME FORM

Connie Mack May Serve an Injunction on Him-Cincinnati Agreement—Federals' Contracts Are Without Reserve Clause—Danny Makes a Homer With Bases Full.

Danny Murphy, who has signed with the Brooklyn Federals, has received word from Connie Mack that an injunction would be served on him to stop him from playing, but nothing definite has been done yet. Connie is walting to see how the Outlaws will come out with their suit against Catcher Killiferii which will be tried in a short while.

The Cincinnati agreement which The Cincinnati agreement which was introduced into organized ball by David Fultz, the president of the Players' Fraternity which was adopted, says that a player after playing with a club for 10 years is entitled to his unconditional release or he becomes a free agent. So, according to this agreement, Connie Mack cannot hold Danny to anything, as he did not sign any of his contracts and was a free agent when he signed with the Federals. His contract with the Federals has no reserve clause attached to it nor has anyl of the Federals' contracts, All the friends of Danny will be glad to know that he will receive a larger salary each year while playing with the Brooklyn Feds. Another fine feature of the Outlaws' contract is that a player can be suspended for a whole season.

If Connie Mack should read the account of the game that the Brooklyns played the other day he would scratch his head in wonderment. For our hero Danny made a homer with the bases full, besides other good healthy waliops out of the ball. The best of all, he had speed on the bases and stole a base, Danny says that he did not know that he had so many friends in the south and that when friends in the south and that when friends in the south and that when he walks to the plate he receives a big ovation and the crowd yells: "Put it out of the lot, Danny, and show Connie how good you are."
